10	Racism can mean saying unkind things to people. It can mean calling people names or making fun of the way they speak. It can mean teasing them about the way they look or dress." The illustration on this page depicts a dark-skinned girl with her head down and a sad expression on her face. She is standing between two light-skinned girls whom are sticking their tongues out and laughing at her with pointy, devilish expressions.
14	Racism can mean taking a person's things. It might mean stealing their money. It might mean ruining their belongings." The illustration on the page depicts a darker-skinned boy with a sad expression on his face. His arms are outstretched, reaching for a bag which a much lighter-skinned boy is holding upside-down with it's contents spilled on the ground. The light-skinned boy has a devilish grin.
15	Racism can also mean hurting a person. The racists might push or shove them. They might hit them or trip them." The illustration on this page depicts a light-skinned girl with blonde hair and devious grin, pushing a darker-skinned girl.
17	The illustration depicts a dark-skinned woman with a concerned expression on her face, sitting down. She is surrounded by light-skinned people whom are all standing up, looking at her with angry faces.
20	The illustration depicts a sad darker-skinned girl with a sad, dejected look on her face, walking away from a group of lighter-skinned children. One of the lighter-skinned boys is acting like a monster with a bucket on his head walking close behind the dark-skinned girl. The other light-skinned children are drawn with pointy features snickering, pointing and laughing at the dark-skinned girl.
24	In this illustration, all of the darker-skinned children have sad, concerned, dejected expressions. Most of the lighter-skinned children are laughing and snickering. The one light-skinned boy whom is not depicted as laughing, is being laughed at by a light-skinned girl next to him. The boy is looking towards the darker-skinned children wistfully.
